

What's in the Stars? February 2018 by Psychic Astrologer Aynne McAvoy

Jupiter in Scorpio squares (challenges) the Sun in Aquarius on February 10. When Jupiter is passing through Scorpio, he can tend to think his and only his, are the biggest ideas. The Sun usually carries the title for the best idea, but not necessarily the biggest. The whole issue today is a matter of semantics. Look at what the 'other' is saying and then realize that you are both saying the same thing. This is an even more important thought this close to Valentine's Day! Find that middle ground!

Valentines Day this year has a solar eclipse right on it's tail. This is important, because as my clients know (because I'm always reminding them) that the energy of an eclipse goes on for months....for weeks before the eclipse and weeks afterwards. So, having a loving holiday like this right at the doorway of this eclipse is worth noting! Let's take a closer look at this eclipse to see just how our love life (and other aspects of our lives) be affected.

The solar eclipse occurs at 27' Aquarius on February 15, 2018. Rudhyar's Mandala says of this degree: An ancient pottery bowl filled with fresh violets. Keynote: The importance of traditional skills and artistic values deeply rooted in man's instinctive feelings as frames of reference for man's most authentic emotions.

What indeed would be man's most authentic emotions but love? It's the only true emotion there is. Everything else is fear or fear based; so there is only love. We are reminded to find what stirs our hearts; whether it be a loved one, favorite pet, or perhaps nature. We are being reminded to stop and think about what is real here? What is lasting, as in referenced in the ancient pottery bowl. This indeed is worth a look and worth a few moments of our busy lives to contemplate. Some people who have been in the awful circumstance of losing everything in a storm or flood or mudslide are reminded what is left is what is real and permanent. They are reminded what really counts. Great thoughts for Valentines Day this year!

The eclipse occurs the next day in 27' Aquarius. Aquarius is the sign of the free thinker, the sign that pushes forward into the unknown even if it takes rebelling and protesting to make something happen. It is also the sign that is ever reaching for a higher solution, for the betterment of the All. I would not be surprised at all to see a flurry of revolt and marches and resistance during this eclipse period. And also as always remember that eclipses reveal something that has been concealed. A curtain will be drawn back and you will be shown something that was hidden to you prior to this.

Perhaps it is the drawn curtain that will itself be the fuel for the fires of revolt.

The Chinese New Year begins the day after the solar eclipse, on February 16. As a point of interest I always include a few words on it in this column.

This will be the year of the Earth Dog, and those born during the year of the dog should take extra care not to be stubborn or overly critical. We think of dogs being loyal, so I suspect that the word loyalty may itself become an important watchword this year.

As always, take what you need and leave the rest. Aynne McAvoy is a psychic astrologer in Palm Coast, Florida.
