

What's in the Stars? for November 2017 by Psychic Astrologer Aynne McAvoy

The crazy carnival ride that we all climbed onto whether we wanted to or not last May is finally drawing to a close. Thank God!

I can relate to this on a personal scale as this grand fire trine began on May 10 and my carnival ride began exactly the same day, a couple days before Mother's Day. While others love these rides, I never have and especially not when it seems to be upsetting my applegart at every turn! The aspect that I refer to is the grand fire trine of Saturn in Sagittarius (never a good fit) trine Uranus in Aries (can you say crazy on a stick?) trine the north node in Leo. The north node placement shows where we need to dig in and find our spiritual base and work through karmic issues. Any trine having to do with the fire signs is going to be right up in your face anyway. It simply will not be ignored or denied. I am relieved we are looking at the back side of this thing, and will see it somewhat dissolve after November 17. ( I say somewhat because Saturn and Uranus, whose trine was exact on November 11, will continue their trine for awhile yet.) Trines usually are very positive things, especially grand trines. This one was just a little too jacked up on Red Bull for my taste.

Things fall back on November 5, when we turn our clocks back and acknowledge the season of longer winter days has arrived. Venus (planet of love) in Scorpio will be conjunct (intensity) Jupiter (big happy planet) in Scorpio from November 11-16. This is exact (and most powerful) on November 16. Those of you who are unattached may suddenly be stricken by Cupid's bow, or should I say Cupid's supercharged crossbow! You may feel like you were just run over by a steam roller (but in a good way.) So , if you are single and looking, make sure you are out and about and visible during those days! Look your best!

A water trine comes into effect between Jupiter in Scorpio (big intensity) trine Neptune in Pisces (dreams) on November 21 through the end of the month. This is the time it is ok to dream those big dreams then begin to make plans to bring them into reality.

Thanksgiving week also brings the Sun back into happy go lucky Sagittarius, and opens the door to the holiday season on November 21. Neptune shifts back into direct mode on November 22 and the week rounds out with a trine between Mercury (communications) in Sagittarius and Uranus (unexpected events) in Aries. Keep your eyes and ears open for those unexpected (but pleasant!) communications to come your way!

Saturn will be moving out of Sagittarius and into Capricorn in mid December for a long stay, and I'll be discussing that next month.
